

the Domestic Diva

BLOG

Pr? Press? Media? Contact Me Directly w/ your Pitch

BLOG: Advertise | Beauty & Fashion | GiftGuide | Links | Photography | PR | Press

may 29, 2009

A Date Night with Kidlets to enjoy Bonefish Grill's New Asian Inspired Dishes

2

tweets

retweet

Heather B's Friday Afternoon at Bonefish Grill

May 22, 2009 PST

See the Story

Heather B was at Bonefish Grill on Friday afternoon, took 4 photos, shared this story with the public and broadcast this story to 22,313 people on Facebook, Twitter, and Whirl.

click on the picture above to read about the story as it happened in real time

Bonefish Grill sent a giftcard for my family and I to go enjoy the new items they had on the menu like Wild Gulf Shrimp Pad-Thai, Asian-style Tempura Lobster, Chicken Marsala and Diablo Shrimp Fettuccini. I'll give you one guess as to which dish I chose to indulge in.

Ok times up. I got the Diablo Shrimp Fettuccini. That dish definitely tickles the taste buds but it was SO delicious. I was amazed at how much shrimp I was given. I'm used to getting a pasta dish with just oh say 5 shrimp but this pasta dish had well over 5 and we are talking good sized shrimp too. My husband got Chicken Marsala. I believe his exact quote was "This is off the chain" meaning it was perhaps the best chicken dish he had ever tasted. Even the kids mac & cheese was fabulous.

So a big, huge thank you to Bonefish Grill for giving our family this opportunity to enjoy our local restaurant and actually have some sort of "date" together. We rarely get the chance to go out so trust us when we say this was a huge treat for us. Me not cooking, for once....wow! is all I can say.

Now I'm curious....

Have you ever eaten at a Bonefish Grill before? If so what is your favorite thing to order? Have you tried any of their new menu items, like the Diablo Shrimp Fettuccini or the Chicken Marsala?

Disclosure: this post is sponsored by Bonefish Grill